Opinions on Impeachment.

The New York Tribune says that the acquittal of Johnson is but the beginning of the storm. Each acquittal has heretofore only served him to commit acts which more resolutely defied Congress and the people, and invited punishment. He will not fail to do the same hereafter. Grimes, Fessenden, Henderson and Trumbull must prepare to share the blame of a complete revolutionary subjugation of Congress to the President, and a nullification and forcible resistance of all the laws he has vetoed, and an ejection of all the officers, including Gen. Grant, who have incurred his displeasure. Get down, noble Senators, therefore, into the dust. Go at your work of eating dirt as if you like it. You will have too much of it to do, to make any ado about it at the outset.

The New York Times asserts that "impeachment has failed, it never was a Republican measure, but only a Radical one, and Grimes, Fessenden and others who were always among the ablest and purest men of the country and who have now shown themselves to be among the bravest, will yet be found to have saved the Republican party from destruction and will earn the gratitude of the country at large."

The Boston Journal, whose Washington correspondent has from the initial proceedings been very confident that the President would be convicted, in the course of an article on the party effect of acquittal, says: "But suppose the President, after all, is acquitted—and acquitted he must be, by Republican votes—what is going to happen to the Republican Party? Is any member going to leave it on that account? Are its principles to be affected in the least degree? We answer no to both questions and no other answer is possible. Whence then can any permanent harm ensue. No, the Republican party was raised up for great national purposes not yet entirely fulfilled. It has its work to do, and it will go right forward to its completion, no matter whether Johnson or Wade sits in the Presidential chair. Its fate is not in the hands of any one even the best and most popular, least of all in the hands of a detected renegade. Its life is not wholly in Washington, but among the free people of this Union, a vast majority of whom it includes and represents."

The New York Evening Post wants the President acquitted, with "sharp censure of his conduct."

The Boston Traveler says: It may be urged that impeachment is a party measure, but is also something higher than that—the welfare of the country, the salvation of our government, it may be, depend upon it. And the Republicans who vote against it will not only act in opposition to their party, and subject themselves to the censure which all men who violate party usages are liable, but they will put themselves in opposition to the interests of the country, and place themselves side by side in history with the men who have turned traitors to the government in other important eras in our history.

It is stated by a Washington correspondent that Senator Wade is quite confident that the President will be convicted. He was asked a day or two ago if his vote should be required, he would give it, and then resign, so as to make Colfax President. His reply was quick: "If I had twenty votes I'd give them all, and as for resigning, I never thought of such a thing; of course I shan't."

The country will have but a day or two longer to remain in doubt. The Senate will, according to present appearances, render a verdict to-morrow.

REGISTRATION IN THE SOUTH.—On Wednesday, Gen. Grant sent to the United States giving the number of votes registered in the Southern States under the Reconstruction Act. The whole number of votes registered in Virginia is, 225,933; of whom 120,111 are whites and the rest colored; in North Carolina there are 196,720 whites and 72,93 colored votes; in South Carolina there are 46,882 whites and 90,550 blacks registered; in Georgia 66,333 whites and 95,168 blacks; Alabama 61,29, whites and 104,59, blacks; in Florida 11,914 blacks 16,79; in Louisiana 42,518 whites and 49,497 blacks.

A HEROIC ACT.—The Troy Times relates the following act of heroism on the part of a fireman on the New York Central Railroad:

"On Saturday last Stephen Heffernan, a fireman of the Central railroad, performed a most heroic act by which he saved the life of a little child who had, with a companion, strayed upon the track near the first mile post on Green Island, and been deserted by her larger comrade when the train came along. The little girl sat on the rail paralyzed with fear as she saw the ponderous engine bearing down upon her, threatening instant destruction. Heffernan saw the child, and at the risk of his own life climbed over the engine to the cow-catcher, and as the locomotive came upon the helpless little thing, he reached down, snatched her from the track, and lifted her uninjured upon the engine! The act is worthy of all praise, and reflects the highest credit upon the coolness, courage and humanity of the young man who so nobly rescued the child from death."

OLD LAWYERS.—The New York Evening Post gives the names of seventy-one lawyers in that city who have been in practice there from thirty-nine to fifty-four years. All of them were admitted to the bar previous to 1830; one Murray Hoffman, as early as 1812; two, S. A. Foot and Michael Ulshoeffer, in 1813; and James W. Gerrard and Frederick A. Tallmadge, in 1814. Thirty-nine of the number have been at the bar since 1825.

PLEASANT NEWS.—By a gentleman just from Ogdensburg we are informed that Hon. DeWitt C. Brown, Superintendent of the Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain Railroad, and President of the Ogdensburg Grain Elevator Company, has had an additional mark of the confidence of the citizens of that city conferred upon him by an election on Monday, as the first Mayor of Ogdensburg. N. Lytle, Esq., editor of the Daily Journal, came within one vote of an election as alderman.

CONSECRATION OF DR. BISSELL.—Official notice is given that Rev. William Henry Augustus Bissell D.D., will take place in Christ's Church, Montpelier, on Wednesday, the third day of June next; the Right Rev. Dr. McCosky, Bishop of Michigan being the consecrator, assisted by the Bishops of Connecticut and New York, and the Right Rev. Dr. Cox, Bishop of Western New York, preaching the sermon.

Cathoun's Family.

Edward A. Pollard, in a recent article upon the distinguished Carolinian, states the following facts regarding the family of the deceased:

"At his death he left five sons and two daughters, all grown up, and of these only the eldest daughter is now living. Four sons died of consumption within a short period of each other, one daughter of fever, and the eldest son, who had attained middle age, died of apoplexy during the recent war. Only the widow and daughter are left in occupation of Fort Hill, the old homestead embowered in trees near the banks of Seneca, and formerly looking over many hundred acres of rich river land in the highest state of cultivation. This residence, once the seat of the most elegant hospitality, and thronged with noble company has, of late, been sadly invaded by the sheriff's officer and the auctioneer; and many persons have learned with painful surprise that to satisfy a paltry debt of a few hundred dollars the library of the dead statesman was lately sold under the hammer, being the only property that could be offered by his poverty-stricken family, without depriving themselves of the necessities of life. The house and land were not sold, as, happily, by military order of Gen. Canby, there is reserved from execution to every family in South Carolina a house and twenty acres of land attached to it. The proceeds of the sale of the library, one of the choicest private collections of books in the South, were pitiful indeed. Whole shelves of books from four to six dollars a shelf, and then other personal property had to be sold to eke out the claims of the creditors."

A LOCAL "WHITE FAWN."—In obedience to a "whitewashing message" from some of our city "executives," the weather-beaten "Neptune" of the park fountain has been made to look like the "White Fawn" on its "last legs." We hear that the change of color of "King Neptune" was obtained through the earnest prayer of certain Democrats who insisted that mythology gives no warrant for believing that the "dominion of the sea was ever other than a 'white man's government.'"—Burlington Times.

THE ACTING PRESIDENT.—The following statement of the situation as it may soon exist is from the New York Sun:

If President Johnson is removed, Ben Wade will not become President. He will be simply the presiding officer of the Senate, acting as President of the United States. If he should cease to be a Senator and the President of the Senate, he would thereby become disqualified to act in the higher capacity. The Senate may choose a temporary chairman or assistant presiding officer to perform the duty in Mr. Wade's absence; but if it should proceed to choose a new President in his stead, the Senator so chosen would have to take the oath of the United States, and Mr. Wade would have to give way to him. But while he is thus only the acting President, he exercises all the powers of the office just the same as though he had been elected to it by the people. It is also manifest from these statements that his acting as President will not vacate his place as Senator from Ohio, and no new election to fill that office can be valid.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE OFFICIAL

HISTORY OF THE WAR.

Its Causes, Character, Conduct and Results!

By Hon. Alexander H. Stephens.

A Book for all Sections and all Parties.

This great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the causes of the War yet published, and gives these interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the floodgate of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

The public that has been surfeited with apparently similar productions, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The Great American War has at last found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

The intense desire everywhere manifested to obtain this work, its official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.
